The China Mail.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1897. Discussing the subject of Chinese footbinding in Formosa and criticising Governor General Baron Nogi's teleration of the cruel practice, the Japan Mail says: 'Of ficial interference with traditional usages that have become dear to a people is to be emphatically deprecated, so long as the usages in question are not hurtful physically or morally.' We agree with our namesake of Japan, and join with him in condemning the practice of footbinding; but at the same time we regret these deprecations of official interference with traditional usages in Formesa did not emanate from our contemporary many months ago In spite of numerous inherent defects of character co-existing with numerous excel lent traits which win for them the respect and admiration of foreign nations, we believe the Japanese mean well in Formosa, but in attempting to colonise they are marching ahead of their own capabilities. Leaving aside the toleration of Chinese customs, however, we regret to say that complaints still reach us from various parts of Formesa regarding Japanese administration. 'It would be difficult to depict a more deplorable condition of affairs than that under which South Formosa is labouring at the present moment, writes one corres pendent, and we gather the conowing Tour from his and other communications. The whole country from Mid Formosa to the South Cape is practically in a state of anarchy: Lingaliao, a large village with in sight of Takow, was looted Co., short time ago, one Chinese hong suffering issued tables of the proposed movements of to the extent of $10,000. Mr Petersen, of the firm of Mesers Julius Mannich and Co., has been robbed of everything in the camphor districts. The Japanese appear afterly powerless to deal with the Chinese, who, by the cruelty and wanton disregard for national customs, by Japanese officials, were driven, in the first instance, The Japan Mail, in a leading article, disinto rebellion. These men have deve- approves of Baron Nogi's teleration of footloped into the most daring robbers, and binding is Formosa, which it very properly are daily becoming more regardless of characterises as a barbarous custom. prevent this illicit trading, although it has been brought to their notice repeatedly. In spite of endless trouble with the sugar tax of 30 cents per picul, the Japanese have taken no steps to organise a system of collection at the mills. The result is that business in new sugar is suspended. It is proposed to collect the tax in the Treaty Ports, but this is open to. objection, as Chinese will immediately ship a lot of sugar away by junk from places on the coast and escape tax and duty. Tonnage dues, illegally charged a year ago, have not yet been refunded, although the Customs have agreed to make the refund. With reference to the sugar duties for the last sesson, it was announced officially that export duty would be charged on shipments to China but refunded on the production of a landing certificate duly signed by the Japanese Consul at port of entry. (Perhaps some political economist will onlighten us as to the advantage of such an extraordinary system.) The necessary documents; to the value of many thousands of dollars, have been handed to the Customs and acknowledged by them to be correct for months past, but as yet there has been no refund made. These are no missionary tales of cruelty to the natives, to which the Japanese officials and their bireling press can give a blank denial and trust to the truth never being known. -These are hard commercial facts which admit of no denial or justification. One has merely to visit Formosa (or Japan for the matter of that) to see how incapable is the average Japanese official, how utterly incapable to look at the broad aspects of any question, political or commercial. To the student of national development and progress, the Japanese may be a highly interesting people. To the mercantile firm with vested interests at stake, the study of Japanese methods is less fascinating. These protests regarding Formosa are not new. They have been made ever since the Japanese landed on the island, and as the Foreign Ministers and Consuls allow these matters to drift without, apparently, endeavouring to alloviate the loss that must inevitably fall on the foreign merchants, the outlook in Formosa is far from rose-coloured. With the opium business gone and camphor practically barred to foreigners; it is difficult to see how foreign firms will be able to carry on, as the sugar trade alone cannot possibly support them. What is the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce doing in the matter? Is the loss of Formosa to foreign trade such a small matter that this powerful Chamber can calmly look on and acquiesce in the wilful crippling of foreign industry and foreign trade without entering. an emphatic protest at Downing Street ?

MACAO NOTES, IMPORTANT REVISION OF BANITARY AND MUNICIPAL REQUIATIONS. (From a Ourrespondent.)

In a supplement to the Official Boletin of the 2nd January, issued on the 6th instant, is published a new code of municipal rules and regulations made by the Senate at its ordinary session on the 4th November last and approved by the Pro- or no value to him. For the pursuer, John vincial Government on the 19th December. The present set of regulations is in super cession of the one made in April 1872, that is, 24 years ago; and though the old rules have from time to time been altered and amended it has not been thought necessary always more or less under the influence of until now to put together the various amendments along with the original rules, so that in compiling the present code opportunity has also been taken to revise the old code and bring it in line with the actual requirements of the city, which, as we know, are many. Besides, the compilation has the further advantage of affording facility for ready reference to those whose duties require them to be posted up in the William that made the discovery first- and letter of the law in respect of municipal affairs in the Holy City."

--EXTRAORDINARY ACTION. FOULTRY DRUNK BIX DAYS A WEFK. An Oban newspaper gives the following report of a very extraordinary case: J Turner, Laggan, claimed £50 damages, restricted to £12, against the Salen Distillery Company, for injury done to his poul-try by the said company in allowing intoxicating material to flow into the Laggan burn. This material, it was alleged, caused drunkenness amongst the pursuer's poultry, and consequently rendered them of little Scott; for defenders, Wm. Smith. Pursuer elicited that for some years past he had been making a considerable income from keeping poultry, but that since the starting of the distillery he had made little or nothing. His hens and ducks would not eat. They were, he might say, almost drink, except on Sundays, when the distillery was not working. On Sundays their condition was pitiable in the extreme. Mondays were their worst day, for then the hens drank excessively, fell into the burn frequently, and lately he had to keep a boy to look after them on Monday mornings. They took no food unless they first had a walk to Laggan burn. Their conduct was generally very reprehensible, and the ducks were no better than the hens. It took the poultry some time to discover the burn. He thought it was a hen he had bought at Fort that she led the rest astray. Cross-examined by Mr Wm. Smith, solicitor: Have you ever observed 'gapes' in hens ! Yes .- Do ter) .- Did you know anything about this Fort William hen before you bought her? Nothing whatever .- Mr John Scott at this stage wished to read to the Bench an Article by Mr Andrew Lang referring to a somewhat similar case. - Mr Smith objected, as the party was not called .-- Mr Scott stated he had summoned Mr Lang, but he had not put in an appearance. He left himself in his Lordship's hands.-The Sheriff sustained the objection .- Superintendent Moss was then asked by Mr Scott to place on the bench a large cage of wickerwork containing the Fort William hen referred to. He asked to be allowed to recall the pursuer. Granted .- Mr tie tide recording machine in the Water Scott: This is the Fort William hen? It Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the is. Is it sober? # Rainier Beer, Try it!

Rainier Beer, Try it!

Unsurpassed as a tonic for the ladies. Once tried by them they will agree with the remarks of our other lady friends and continue to patronize us. For the gentlemen it is a cooling and refreshing drink. All who have tried it stand by it. We only ask one trial and will then rest on our merits.
